Informed Consent Form

We are inviting you to provide comments and suggestions for entries in the Globalized Computing Education Terminology resource. The project of collecting comments and suggestions has been reviewed by the Ramapo College IRB (# 782).

This document explains what types of data are collected, why, what is done with the data, measures taken to protect confidentiality of your identity and what your rights are regarding the use of the data.

Purpose of data collection: Your comments and suggestions will be used to modify the Globalized Computing Education Terminology resource after they are validated through secondary means.

Duration of data collection: Comments and suggestions will be collected on an ongoing basis.

Effect of data collection on user experience: Comments and suggestions are collected on a voluntary basis from anyone reviewing the Globalized Computing Education Terminology resource.

Types of data collected: The following data will be collected:
• Comments and suggestions about adding, editing, and relocating terms in the Globalized Computing Education Terminology resource
• Optionally, name, email address, and country of experience

Risks of data collection to you: No risk is anticipated to accrue to you as a result of your participation in this project.

Confidentiality of your identity: You can remain anonymous when providing comments and suggestions.

Benefits of data collection to you: Improvements to the Globalized Computing Education Terminology resource resulting from your comments and suggestions will benefit your use of the resource.

Your rights regarding the data collected from you: You have the right not to provide comments and suggestions.

By proceeding to provide comments and suggestions, you confirm that you are over 18 years of age.

If you have questions about your rights as a participant, please email irb@ramapo.edu.

If you have unanswered questions: please contact Amruth Kumar by email: amruth@ramapo.edu.